

Call for abstracts

Abstracts from all areas of andrology are invited to be submitted.

Abstracts should be submitted electronically as indicated on the website.

The deadline for submission of abstracts is: June 1, 2004

Exhibition

There is ample space for technical and pharmaceutical exhibitions.

Official language

English (postgraduate course in German)

Registration fees

Congress (including Postgraduate Course)

Before June 1, 2004

EAA and DGA members	Non-members	Students
200,- Euro	250,- Euro	100,- Euro

After June 1, 2004

300, Euro	350, Euro	150, Euro
-----------	-----------	-----------

Postgraduate Course only
(September 11, 2004)

Before June 1, 2004

EAA and DGA members	Non-members	Students
100,- Euro	150,- Euro	50,- Euro

After June 1, 2004

200,- Euro	250,- Euro	100,- Euro
------------	------------	------------

Sum to be transferred to

ECA 2004

Sparkasse Muensterland Ost

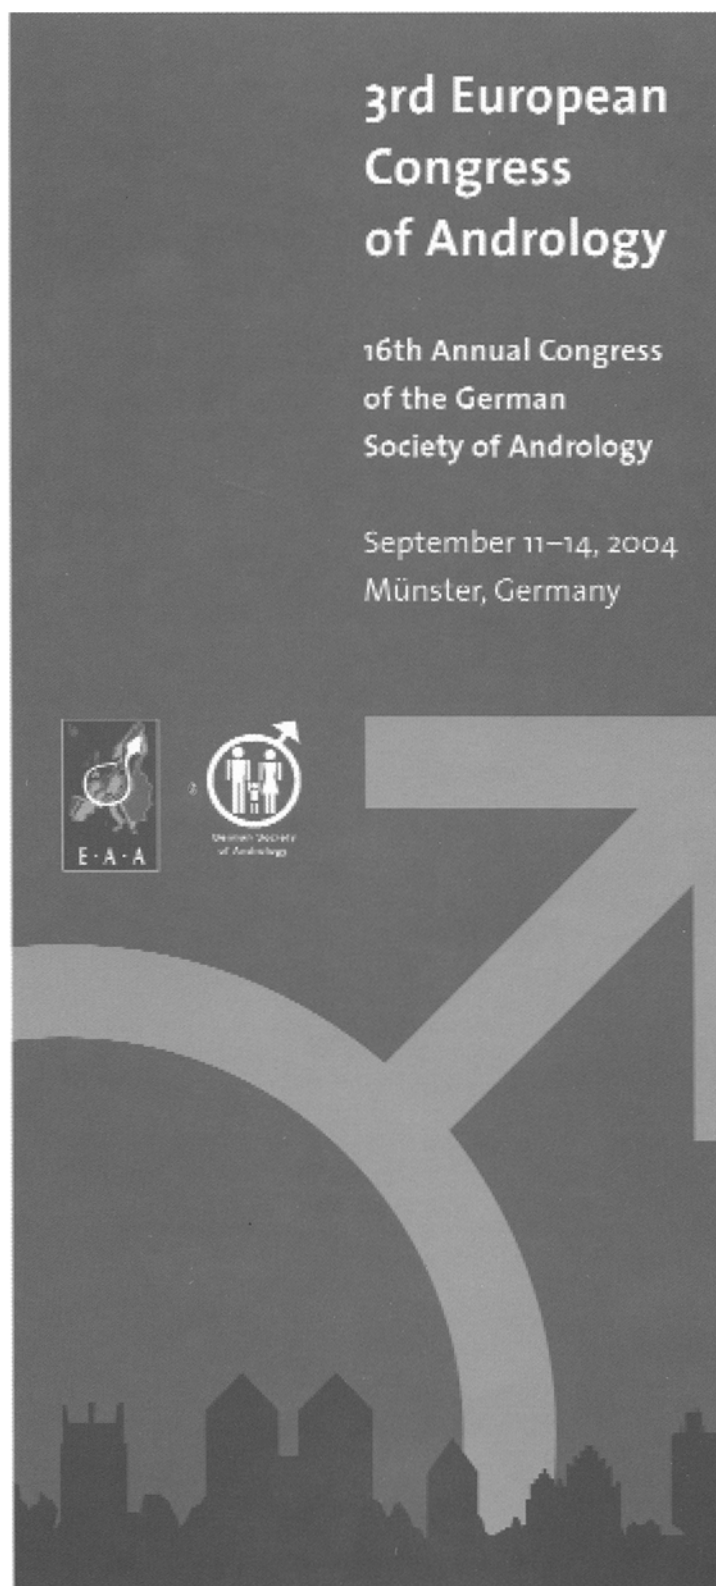

Bank Number 400 501 50

Account Number 340 660 01

3rd European Congress of Andrology

16th Annual Congress of the German
Society of Andrology

September 11-14, 2004
Münster, Germany

Hotel accommodation

The main congress hotel is at the site of the convention centre.

This and other hotels can be booked through:
www.marketing.muenster.de

Social programme

Welcome reception at the City Hall.

Poster party at the Halle Münsterland.

Social evening at the lakeside restaurant "Uferlos".

Portrait of the city

Münster is the capital of Westphalia in the North-West of Germany close to the Dutch border. Münster is a 1200 year old city with a nicely preserved medieval core. It became famous in 1648 when the Peace Treaty at the end of the 30 Years War was signed here. Today the city houses the 3rd largest university in Germany with a prominent medical faculty.

Travel information

Münster has a local airport, well connected to Frankfurt and Munich for international flights, but also with some direct international connections (Zurich, Copenhagen). Intercity trains between Hamburg and Cologne stop in Münster.

There is quick access to motorway A1.

The bicycle is the most popular means of transportation inside the city.

Information and registration

Website: www.3rd-eca.de

Email: eca@uni-muenster.de

Contact

Prof. Dr. E. Nieschlag
Institute of Reproductive
Medicine of the University
Domagkstr. 11
D-48129 Münster, Germany
Tel: + 49-251-83 56097
Fax: +49-251-83 56093
Email:
nieschl@uni-muenster.de

The premier event in Andrology in 2004 in Europe, sponsored by the European Academy of Andrology (EAA) and the German Society of Andrology (DGA).

Congress venue

Conference Centre "Halle Münsterland", Münster

Main topics of the Congress:

- Spermatogonial stem cells
- Control of spermatogenesis
- Physiology and therapeutic use of androgens
- Erectile dysfunction
- Male infertility
- Assisted reproduction
- Paternally mediated teratogenicity
- Prostate cancer
- Testicular tumours
- Environment and reproduction
- Male contraception
- 5 Plenary lectures
- 12 Symposia
- Oral presentations and posters
- Postgraduate course (in German)

Programme Organising Committee:

M. Simoni (D), chairperson
EAA

S. Francavilla (I)
N. Goncharov (RUS)
A. Glawerman (S)
C. Krausz (I)
R. Miesseut (F)
E. Nieschlag (D)
J. Pomeroy (E)
P. Saunders (GB)
O. Söder (S)
J. Toppari (SF)
H. Tournaye (B)

DGA

W. Krause (D)
F.M. Köhn (D)
E. Nieschlag (D)
W. Weidner (D)

Local Organising Committee:

E. Nieschlag, chairman
T.G. Cooper
J. Gromoll
J. Esselmann
L. Hertle
L. Kiesel
S. Klesch
C.M. Luetjens
A. Olerink
M. Simoni
J. Wistuba
M. Zitzmann